"With such an emphasis placed on AAU and traveling teams, player development has taken a back seat. NBC Camps gives players an opportunity to develop good habits by using the best teaching tool there is...repetition! As a college coach I've seen a huge drop in young player skill sets, so I highly encourage athletes with dreams of playing college to find ways to work on skill development. With our new Elite Camp I will give top level players the tools necessary to take the next step. Our curriculum allows each athlete the opportunity to sharpen their individual game, but also the knowledge necessary to continue strengthening their game."

If you're a serious player with a burning desire to play college ball I strongly recommend you come and give a short period of your summer for the long benefit of your game."
